Disenrollment and Behavioral Management Protocols

Each classroom/teacher will implement disciplinary methods which will consist of a verbal warning for the first offense, a time-out or loss of privilege for the second offense and a visit with the director upon the third offense. The director visit will consist of a verbal warning with a submitted Disciplinary Referral Form sent to the parent(s). A second visit will result in a Parent/Teacher/Director Conference to discuss strategies that can lead to changed behaviors, and possible disenrollment from the program. It will be discretionary to whether a suspension or a withdrawal from the program is required. Parents will be notified in advance and warned of inappropriate behaviors that could lead to the removal of their child. As an intervention, parents may call to schedule a conference with the child's teacher and the director to discuss strategies that could lead to changed behaviors and possible continuance in the program.

Shaken Baby Syndrome (Abusive Head Trauma) Prevention Policy

This policy is designed to inform and assist Parents and caregivers in recognizing the signs and symptoms of Shaken Baby Syndrome and to aide in preventing the possibility of abusive head trauma during care. Abusive head trauma (also referred to as Shaken Baby Syndrome) occurs in infants and young children, whose neck muscles are not well-developed and whose heads are larger relative to their bodies. As a result, they are especially susceptible to head trauma caused by any type of forceful or sudden shaking, with or without blunt impact. Damage can occur in as little as five seconds.

Abusive head trauma can occur in children up to five years of age; however, infants less than one year are at greater risk of injury. Shaken baby syndrome can lead to serious conditions including:

- Brain damage, problems with memory and attention, cerebral palsy
- Blindness or hearing loss
- Intellectual, speech or learning disabilities
- Developmental delays

Signs and Symptoms

The signs and symptoms of Shaken Baby Syndrome or head trauma include:

- Seizures
- Bruises which may be found on the upper arms, rib cage or head resulting from gripping or hit the head
- Lack of appetite, vomiting or difficulty sucking or swallowing
- Lack of smiling or vocalizing
- Rigidity, inability to lift the head
- Difficulty staying awake, altered consciousness
- Difficulty breathing, blue color due to lack of oxygen
- Unequal pupil size, inability to focus the eyes or track movement
- Irritability and/or high pitched crying

Injury Prevention

Infant crying is normal behavior, which improves as a child ages. Caregivers should develop proactive strategies to manage stress levels and appropriate responses to a crying child. This includes being self-aware and noticing when the caregiver may become frustrated or angry. Parents/Guardians, caregivers and coworkers should discuss those calming strategies are successful with a particular child at home or in the center.

Emergency Response

If a child presents any of the above symptoms or it is suspected that a child has suffered abusive head trauma:

- Call 911, call the Parent/Guardian and inform your Director and Regional Manager.
- Report to the appropriate child protective services agency (or law enforcement, if applicable) within 24 hours or less as required by law.

Strategies for Caregivers and Parents

A child is usually shaken out of frustration, often when the child is persistently crying or irritable. The following strategies may work some of the time; but sometimes nothing will comfort a crying child. A Teacher should seek support from a coworker or center management. If a child is inconsolable on a regular basis, the Director and Regional Manager should be notified and determine if the right supports are in place for the child and for staff.

Do:

- Hand the child to another caregiver.
- Place the child somewhere safe in the classroom (or home) and call the office (or a neighbor) for support; take deep breaths and count to ten.
- Check to see if the baby’s diaper needs changing.
- Give the baby a bottle. If baby readily takes bottle, feed slowly stopping to burp often. Do not force the baby to eat.
- Check for signs of illness and call the Parent if you suspect the child is sick.
- Give baby a pacifier.
- Hold the baby close against your body and breathe calmly and slowly.
- Gently rock the baby using slow, rhythmic movements.
- Sing to the baby or play soft, soothing music.
- Use “white noise” or rhythmic sounds that mimic the constant whirl of noise in the womb.
- Hold the baby on its side or stomach position to help with digestion. Babies should always be placed on their backs to sleep.
- Take the baby for a walk indoors or outside for a ride in the stroller.
- Be patient; let the baby cry it out if necessary.

Never:

- Shake a child
- Drop a child
- Throw a child into the air or into a crib, chair or car seat
- Push a child into any object including walls, doors and furniture
- Strike a child’s head, directly or indirectly

Agree to the following regarding student being potty trained:

My child understands when they need to use the restroom without prompting from the Teacher. My child can pull clothing up and down, and is able to wipe themselves and wash their hands independently. We understand that accidents happen, however, if your child is having frequent accidents (3 or more in a one week period (7 days), not including accidents while sleeping), we will issue a two week suspension so you can focus on potty training. Payment will be expected as usual to preserve your enrollment status, after which the child will be allowed to class. Students who continue to have multiple accidents after potty training suspension will be removed from active enrollment and placed on our waiting list as the child is not fully potty trained.

The Scriptures teach that Parents are to show themselves in all respects to be models of good works; they are to teach their children with integrity and dignity using sound speech (Tit. 2:7-8). It is our privilege and obligation to partner with Parents in the realization of this biblical teaching. When Parents and caregivers are partners in their day-to-day activities, children thrive. The Baptist Education Center Preschool (BEC) works in collaboration with Parents so that we may offer each other support and insight into the lives of the children to plan and facilitate learning and care experiences that maximize a child's potential. There is a level of security that comes with knowing Parents and Teachers work cooperatively and collaboratively in a spirit and attitude of trust and mutual respect.

Registration

We offer our registration application and Parent/Guardian Handbook online and at our center. We require Parents to attend a tour of our facility before the child enrolls in our program. We encourage Parents to bring their child to participate in registration so that the process of building rapport with the child can begin. This time is reserved for one-on-one communication so that we can answer any questions that you may have and explain our policies and procedures.

Activities & Special Events

Parents are encouraged to participate in and attend special events. Such events have included "field trips" which were on-site experiences such as a visit from a local fire department, and more. Parents are invited to share ideas for additional participation opportunities. Parents are also invited to meet childcare staff during their tour.

Note: We invite you to participate in your child's care and education as the law and COVID-19 policies currently allow.

Daily Communication: Teachers

Each day, the children have a unique learning and growing experience, so Parents are kept informed through Dojo of their child's daily activities. Teachers can be contacted through Dojo for questions, encouragements, and concerns. They look forward to and enjoy providing updates about your child. The communication varies by classroom/child age to provide Parents meaningful feedback about each day.

Regular Communication: Director

Parents are encouraged to read the Parent Newsletter which is posted in our front office and will be accessible in Dojo. Parents are always invited to share questions, concerns, complaints, and/or ideas by contacting the Director and or Assistant Director via email, telephone, or over Dojo.

Surveys

Parent surveys help the Baptist Education Center (BEC) gather information about how well the program is meeting family needs. Survey responses also help identify areas in which BEC can work to improve the family experience.
